When I first moved to the city, I was taken aback by the pace of life. Everything was always moving, always in a rush. Cars honked their horns, people pushed and shoved their way through the crowds, and the noise was constant. At first, I found it exhilarating. I felt like I was part of something bigger than myself. But as the weeks turned into months, I began to feel overwhelmed.
I noticed that I was becoming increasingly anxious. I was having trouble sleeping, and my thoughts were constantly racing. I knew that I needed to do something to slow down and find some peace. That's when I discovered meditation.
At first, I was sceptical. I had always thought of meditation as something only hippies and yogis did. But I was desperate, so I gave it a try. I found a quiet place in my apartment, sat down cross-legged, and closed my eyes. At first, my mind was still racing, but I focused on my breath and tried to let go of my thoughts. Slowly, I felt my body relax, and my mind grew calmer.
Over the next few weeks, I began to notice the effects of my meditation practice. I felt less anxious and more centred. I was able to sleep better, and I felt more focused during the day. I started to see the world around me with new eyes. The noise and chaos of the city no longer bothered me as much. I felt more in control of my thoughts and emotions.
As I continued to meditate, I started to make other changes in my life. I started to eat healthier, exercise more, and spend more time outside. I found that these small changes had a big impact on my overall sense of well-being. I realised that the frenzied pace of city life had been taking a toll on me, and that I needed to take better care of myself.
Looking back, I can see how my decision to start meditating had a ripple effect on my life. It was the catalyst for a series of changes that have made me a happier and healthier person. I'm still amazed at how something as simple as sitting down and closing my eyes for a few minutes each day could have such a profound impact.
In conclusion, the fast-paced life of the city had a negative effect on my mental and physical health. But by taking the time to meditate and make other positive changes, I was able to improve my overall well-being. I encourage anyone feeling overwhelmed or stressed to give meditation a try. You never know how it might change your life.

There are three main groups of oils: animal, vegetable, and mineral. Great quantities of animal oil come from whales, creatures of the sea, which are the largest of the remaining animals in the world. To protect the whales from the cold of the Arctic seas, nature has provided them with a thick covering of fat, called blubber. When the whale is killed, the blubber is stripped off and boiled down. It produces a great quantity of oil which can be made into food for human consumption. A few other creatures yield oil, but none so much as the whale. The livers of cod and halibut, two kinds of fish, yield nourishing oil. Both cod liver oil and halibut oil are given to sick children who need certain vitamins. There are three main groups of oils: animal, vegetable, and mineral. Great quantities of animal oil come from whales, creatures of the sea, which are the largest of the remaining animals in the world. To protect the whales from the cold of the Arctic seas, nature has provided them with a thick covering of fat, called blubber. When the whale is killed, the blubber is stripped off and boiled down. It produces a great quantity of oil which can be made into food for human consumption. A few other creatures yield oil, but none so much as the whale. The livers of cod and halibut, two kinds of fish, yield nourishing oil. Both cod liver oil and halibut oil are given to sick children who need certain vitamins. No household can get by without oil, for it is used in cooking. Perfumes and soaps may be made from the oils of certain flowers.

Comprehension:

Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow.

Remote work, the ability to work from home or other locations outside of the traditional office setting, has become increasingly popular in recent years. With the development of new technologies, remote work is now possible for many jobs that previously required employees to be physically present in the office. This shift towards remote work has been driven by a number of factors, including the desire for increased flexibility, reduced overhead costs and improved work-life balance.

One of the primary benefits of remote work is the flexibility it provides. Employees are able to work from wherever they choose, whether that be from the comfort of their own homes, a local coffee shop or even while travelling. This flexibility can allow employees to better balance work and personal responsibilities and can result in higher job satisfaction and retention rates. Employers also benefit from increased flexibility, as remote work can lead to reduced overhead costs, such as rent and utilities for office space.

In addition to flexibility, remote work has also been linked to increased productivity. Many studies have shown that employees who work from home are often more productive than those who work in a traditional office setting. This is due in part to reduced distractions and interruptions, as well as the ability to work during one's most productive hours, rather than adhering to a traditional 9-to-5 schedule. Furthermore, remote work can lead to a more diverse and inclusive workforce, as individuals with disabilities or caregiving responsibilities can more easily participate in the workforce.

Despite the benefits, there are also some drawbacks to consider when it comes to remote work. One of the primary concerns is the lack of social interaction and collaboration. When employees are working remotely, they may miss out on the benefits of in-person collaboration, such as brainstorming sessions and the ability to bounce ideas off of colleagues. Additionally, remote work can lead to feelings of isolation and loneliness, which can have a negative impact on mental health and job satisfaction.

Another potential drawback of remote work is the potential for blurred boundaries between work and personal life. When employees work from home, it can be difficult to separate work time from personal time, leading to longer work hours and decreased work-life balance. Additionally, without the structure of a traditional office environment, it can be easy for employees to become distracted or procrastinate, leading to decreased productivity.

Overall, while remote work offers many benefits, it is important for both employees and employers to consider the potential drawbacks and take steps to mitigate them. This may include finding ways to maintain social interaction and collaboration, setting clear boundaries between work and personal time and establishing a structured routine to ensure productivity and work-life balance. As remote work continues to become more prevalent, it is important to balance its benefits with its potential challenges and find ways to create a productive and healthy remote work environment.

SubQuestion No : 96

Q.96 How does remote work contribute to a more diverse and inclusive workforce?

Ans

✗ 1. It creates opportunities for in-person collaboration.

✗ 2. It promotes work-life balance.

✓ 4. It allows individuals with disabilities to participate in the workforce.
